Report of Special Lecture on 'Echoes of Indian Tradition: Exploring Indian Knowledge Systems' organized on 1st December 2025

Internal Quality Assurance Cell and The IKS Research Group of the Central University of Punjab jointly organized a Special Lecture on 'Echoes of Indian Tradition: Exploring Indian Knowledge Systems' under the NEP SAARTHI initiative to spread awareness among students about India's rich traditions, value systems and the vision of the Indian Education System in line with NEP-2020. The programme was held under the patronage of Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor Prof. Raghavendra P. Tiwari.

Renowned academician Prof. Vikas Sharma from Chaudhary Charan Singh University, Meerut was the invited speaker and delivered an insightful lecture on the evolution and significance of Indian knowledge systems. The session began with a welcome address by Prof. Monisha Dhiman, Director IQAC, who elaborated on the objectives of the NEP SAARTHI initiative, followed by the introduction of the speaker by Prof. Vipin Pal Singh.

In his address, Prof. Vikas Sharma underlined the deep relevance of indigenous knowledge traditions in shaping contemporary education and society. He stressed that the Indian knowledge system, rooted in holistic learning, sustainability and human values, offers viable solutions to modern-day challenges. Highlighting the importance of integrating traditional wisdom with modern pedagogy, he stated that education must focus on character-building, emotional well-being and social responsibility in addition to knowledge acquisition. He further reiterated that NEP-2020 provides a pathway for restoring India's academic heritage through multilingualism, experiential learning, ethical values and research-driven education, and encouraged students to take pride in their civilizational legacy.

On this occasion, Dr. Vijay Sharma, Registrar, expressed gratitude to the invited speaker for his scholarly talk. Dr. Bhaw Nath Pandey, Dean, School of Information and Communication Studies, delivered the formal vote of thanks.
