Message from the Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor's Desk

न विधिः कार्यविधौ प्रवर्तते धर्मेण हीनः पुरुषः प्रवर्तते।

“A man devoid of Dharma cannot be guided by mere rules; law without righteousness fails to inspire action.”

The Central University of Punjab came into existence in the year 2009 with the vision to transform the minds to serve the humanity through skills and innovation driven teaching and research, values and community outreach. Demonstrating its dedication to academic quality and institutional excellence, it has secured NAAC A+ grade and figures in top 100 in university category in NIRF, consecutively for the last six years - the latest rank being 77. The achievement of this vision, the Department of Law as a part of its activities, organizes Nyaya Nityam fest every year which provides the participants an opportunity to visualize law in a practical competitive setting.

Law as enshrined in the concept of dharma is not revealed in the dichotomy of rights and duties. It is rather a holistic concept encompassing moral duty, cosmic order and social justice. Our ancient texts articulate a legal framework where justice was rooted in righteousness, and law was inseparable from ethics and spiritual values. This conception of law explored in the form of dharma, forms the doctrinal bridge between our ancient texts, the Gandhian principles of Satya and Ahimsa during the colonial era and our modern legal philosophy enshrined in the Constitution of India where justice, liberty, equality has been given the pride of the place through the chapter on fundamental rights and fundamental duties.

I encourage you to participate with vigor in Nyaya Nityam 2.0 and explore the different facets of the ‘rule of law’. I believe that participation in this fest would open up new vistas to explore in the field of law and encourage you to develop the legal-cultural ethos which focuses on justice, moral duty and righteousness. I congratulate the faculty members of the Department of Law for organizing this fest and wish them all success.

Prof. Raghavendra P. Tiwari
Vice Chancellor

Client Counselling Competition

(14th Nov 2025)

Client counselling is an art as much as it is a skill. It is the cornerstone of effective legal representation, requiring not only a deep understanding of the law but also empathy, communication prowess, and problem-solving abilities. In this competition, participants will have the opportunity to demonstrate their capacity to engage with clients, identify their needs, provide informed legal advice, and navigate complex legal scenarios with clarity and confidence.

The competition format emphasizes teamwork, as participants typically work in pairs to counsel clients. Collaboration is key as teams strategize, analyze legal issues, and develop comprehensive counselling strategies to address their clients' concerns. Judges evaluate not only the legal accuracy of the advice but also the participants' professionalism, interpersonal skills, and overall effectiveness in providing counsel.

Contract Drafting Competition

(14th Nov 2025)

The competition seeks to give law students a stage on which to exhibit their proficiency in contract drafting, apply their legal knowledge to real-world scenarios, and develop a deeper comprehension of the legal ramifications of contract drafting. This contest will showcase the abilities required to succeed in this field and serve to raise awareness of the significance of contract drafting in the legal profession.

This competition provides law students an excellent platform to showcase their legal expertise in drafting contracts, enhance practical skills and interact with legal professionals. With the focus on real-world scenarios, participants will draft contracts based on case studies, enabling them to apply their legal knowledge to practical situations and understand the legal implications of contract drafting. It also emphasizes the importance of contract drafting in the legal profession.

AI vs. Human

(16th Nov 2025)

AI vs Human” is a thought-provoking competition where participants explore the strengths, limits, and impact of Artificial Intelligence compared to human intelligence. The event aims to spark discussion on how technology is transforming our world and whether machines can ever truly match human creativity, emotion, and ethic.

It tests the speed, accuracy, creativity, and reasoning ability of both sides. While AI relies on data and algorithms, humans bring intuition, emotion, and innovation into their answers. This exciting event will explore who performs better — the programmed precision of AI or the creative brilliance of the human mind.

Rules and Regulations:

- Participants will be presented with a legal issue or problem and will be required to draft the most suitable solution or response within the allotted time.
- Their submissions will be compared with AI-generated answers.
- Evaluation will be based on the quality of legal analysis, soundness of reasoning and interpretation, and the coherence of the conclusion.
- Use of mobile phones or the internet during the competition is strictly prohibited.
